Pending Applications in Which Character Issues Have Been Raised

Character allegations have been raised in a petition to deny filed on September 1, 2004 by Right to Decency, Inc. and the American Decency Association ("Petitioners") against the application for renewal of license (FCC File No. BRH-20040601BHZ) of WKRK-FM, Detroit, Michigan, a station that is commonly owned with WWJ-TV. Petitioners suggest that the licensee of WKRK-FM lacks the basic character qualifications to be a Commission licensee because of alleged violations of the Commission's rule on the broadcast of indecent material.

Adverse Findings

On May 23, 2005, a jury issued a verdict in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, Southern Division (Case No. 02-74602) finding that Infinity Broadcasting Corporation and Infinity Broadcasting Corporation of Michigan, licensee of WYCD(FM), Detroit, Michigan (together "Infinity"), discriminated against Erin Weber ("Weber"), a former on-air personality at WYCD(FM), in violation of the Equal Pay Act, but that Infinity's violation was not willful. The jury also found that Infinity discriminated against Weber in violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act for failure to accommodate her allergic reaction to perfume worn by a co-worker. The verdict remains subject to review by the trial judge and the Court of Appeals, and Infinity intends to seek review. Even if the verdict were upheld on review, it would not be relevant under the Commission's Character Policy Statement because any misconduct is isolated and not part of a "pattern" of misconduct. See Policy Regarding Character Qualifications in Broadcast Licensing, 7 FCC Rcd 6564 at n.31 (1992); see also WPIX, Inc. For Renewal of the License of Commercial Television Station WPIX(TV), New York, New York, 5 FCC Rcd 7469 at ¶15 (Video Services Division 1990). In any event, the verdict did not involve the station that is the subject of this renewal application. Accordingly, the Commission is precluded from considering the allegations of misconduct at WYCD(FM) in reviewing the instant renewal application. 47 U.S.C. § 309(k); Letter to James Donohue In Re: WFQX(FM), Front Royal, VA, FCC File No. BRH-20030602CKX at n. 9 (Audio Division, Media Bureau, released October 7, 2003).

FCC Violation

On August 31, 2004, the FCC issued a Notice of Apparent Liability for Forfeiture ("NAL") against various subsidiaries of Viacom Inc. ("Viacom"), including CBS Broadcasting Inc., which are the licensees of Viacom owned television stations that broadcast the programming of the CBS Television Network ("CBS"). The NAL resulted from the alleged broadcast of indecent material during the halftime show of the Super Bowl game on February 1, 2004, which was carried by the CBS Television Network and broadcast by WWJ-TV. The show, which was produced by MTV Networks ("MTVN"), which is also owned by Viacom, contained a musical performance that concluded with Justin Timberlake pulling off part of Janet Jackson's clothing, which inadvertently (according to Timberlake and Jackson) resulted in the brief exposure of Ms. Jackson's breast. In issuing the NAL, the FCC did not dispute the conclusion of Viacom, reached after an intensive internal investigation, that no Viacom, CBS or MTVN personnel had prior knowledge of this element of the Jackson-Timberlake performance.

Public Inspection File

A recent review of WWJ-TV's public inspection file revealed that a number of items were missing, namely (i) certifications of compliance with the children's commercial limits for the First Quarter of 2000 and the First Quarter of 2001¹; (ii) Children's Programming Reports for the First and Third Quarters of 2000, and the First Quarter of 2001 (which were, however, duly filed with the Commission, and which have now been replaced in the public inspection file); and (iii) the Issues/Program Report for the first Quarter of 2001.

¹ Licensee is nonetheless able to certify compliance with the children's commercial limits since, during the periods in question, WWJ-TV broadcast only children's programming supplied by the CBS Television Network, without local commercial insertion, and network commercials within such programs complied with the limits.
